Barclays Capital charity showcase

On Tuesday 13th December, the team were invited to the Barclays Capital charity showcase. It was a chance for us to show and explain what it is City Year does to other charities. We demonstrated the City Year call and response (fired up one), and some public speaking skills! In front of the numerous charities BarCap support, as well as the CEO Rich Ricci himself, a corps member gave a testimonial. We then performed some PT, in the form of Bananas and Front Side, Back Side. The second time, the audience (again, the CEO got involved) performed with us. After the excitement of the evening, a headteacher from a secondary school came over to the stall and gave his contact details, as he was really interested in City Year.
